1. Expressly designed to assure your patient ease of insertion and automatic placement.
2. Conserves physician's time by reducing fitting and instruction period.
3. Patients learn faster and develop greater confidence because of the ease with which they learn to place and use the diaphragm.
4. Affords greater patient protection by locking in spermicidal lubricant and delivering it directly under and next to the os uteri.
5. Folds behind pubic bone with suction-like action forming a more effective barrier.
6. Simple to remove.

When compressed, diaphragm forms into semi-curve or half-moon shape (Fig. 1) permitting it to pass easily along floor of the vagina beyond cervix (Fig. 2) without any difficulty. No mechanical inserter or introducer is required (Fig. 2) since the KORO-FLEX will not buckle or butterfly in form.

KORO-FLEX (contouring) Diaphragm is ideal, not only where ordinary coilspring diaphragms are indicated but for Flat rim (Mensinga) type as well.

May be used in cases of mild prolapse, cystocele or rectocele.
